She's Got Cred... BIG TIME!

Christine holds a Bachelors Degree in Communication and a Masters Degree in Adult Education. She is a member of the National Speakers Association and is a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP). CSP is an earned designation, held by fewer than 10% of the speakers on the planet. This credential is awarded selectively by the National Speakers Association and the International Federation for Professional Speakers as a measure of speaking experience and skill.

Christine has been featured as a creativity expert in HOW Designs at Work magazine and is a co-author of the book Mission Possible, Volume Eight. She has also developed the A Dynamic Speaker Series of Learning Resources: Get What You Want With What You've Got DVD, Why Can't Everybody Just Get Along CD and Got Humor Video. Her book, The Good Stuff will be released in December 2009.

Before hitting the speaking scene, Christine was a university admissions officer, corporate trainer and broadcaster. Hey – she even votes.

She's the REAL DEAL

Christine combines a down-to-earth attitude with a colorful artistic streak. Comments from audience members such as, "I feel like I've known her forever," "We must take her back to our workplace" and, "It felt as if Christine was speaking directly to me," are a testament to her effectiveness and style.

What makes her unique is the "real" factor. Whether talking about her "hottie engineer" husband, her pet peeves or growing up in an Italian/Irish household, audiences always relate to her experiences, struggles and lessons. Christine resides in Dallas with her husband, their two children and Murphy, the chocolate lab.
