

Hugh Curley

“The Emotional Intelligence for Engineers Speaker”

Emotional Intelligence • Success • Leadership

Hugh Curley is one of the fastest rising motivational speakers today. His entertaining style and clear examples make the principles he shares easy, fun to learn and immediately applicable. His optimistic, upbeat and positive nature results in an immediate connection with the audience for these interactive speeches.

Hugh has been highly successful in the demanding arena of presenting seminars to engineers since 1975.

Hugh is able to draw analogies from many years of experience as an engineer, private pilot, husband, father and grandfather.

Education, Associations and Awards

Doctorate of Jurisprudence, Santa Clara University
Professional member National Speakers Association
Professional member National Speakers Association/Colorado Chapter
VP, Sister Cities Program, San Jose, CA
Certified Life Success Consultant
VP, American Society of Training and Development, Silicon Valley, CA
Distinguished Toastmaster (DTM)

Most Requested Topics

• Emotional Intelligence 101

Don't get left behind as the world changes from logic dominated to relationship dominated. This speech uses many stories to show how to recognize your own emotions, other people's emotions and use that information to build successful relationships.

• Abundance—Your Birthright

The world can provide everything we need. This entertaining speech shows you how to recognize that fact and how to get what you want through an abundance mentality.

• The Winners' Image—A Motivational Morale Booster

Winners think differently from the masses, and consequently win even more. With stories and humor this speech shows you how to be more of a winner than you already are.

• Tapping Your Infinite Potential

Learn how your brain controls your body to fulfill your self-image. Learn how to create your desired life by building your self-image.

• Leadership for Non-Leaders

This talk ignores the training of thousands of textbooks and years of college courses to give you the most critical lesson in leadership by someone who has been there.

Your presentation was engrossing and engaging. I found it informative, interactive and interesting. You put the big pieces together exceptionally well with your dynamic presence. The information I gained is useful and positive.

Trent Turner, Senior Engineer, Oracle

To book Hugh, contact: